Quantum Castor Oil

Real Castor Oil: The Healing Secret of the Ancients

The Oil that Heals -
From the Outside In

The Palma Christi or the "Hand of Christ"

Castor oil was used therapeutically in ancient India, China, Persia, Egypt, Africa, Greece, Rome and Europe — so effective it was called "the Palma Christi" or "hand of Christ." The famous Edgar Cayce, known as the "sleeping prophet," popularized the use of castor oil, especially in the form of castor oil packs in the 1930's and 40's, resulting in amazing health recoveries for many people.

More recently, Dr. Wm. McGarey, a medical doctor from Arizona, recounted many seemingly miraculous cases using castor oil packs in his book, The Oil That Heals, for a wide range of disorders from "you name it" to chronic headaches, low back injury, trauma, digestive and liver/gallbladder problems, infertility, menopause, menstruation, and more.

Beware of "Junk" Castor Oil

Beware of the source of your castor oil. Unfortunately, much castor oil currently available is derived from castor oil beans that have been pesticided or poorly grown (thus having few or no healing properties) and/or which have been solvent-extracted or deodorized (which damages the healing phytonutrients as well as containing residual toxic solvent contaminants).

What is a castor oil pack?

To make a pack, saturate 3 layers of organic cotton flannel (6" x 8" squares) with castor oil. Place the pack directly on the skin, cover with plastic sheet, then a heating pad. Keep in place for 1 to 2 hrs, 2 to 3 times per week. Initial key site choices: abdominal area or low back (kidneys). It has been effectively used to promote proper bowel eliminations, good digestion, regular menstrual cycles, increased lymphatic circulation and better assimilation of nutrients.

Castor Oil Pack Instructions

How to Use a Castor Oil Pack

Items Needed

- Quantum Castor Oil (8 oz) – Premier Quality from India
- Quantum Cotton Flannel – 3 sheets of certified organic cotton flannel (natural beige); no toxic bleaches, pesticides or chemicals
- Plastic Sheet – a plastic sheet (such as a garbage bag), plus a bath towel and a few safety pins or large elastic bandage
- Electric heating pad (for dry, not moist heat) – to gently heat the castor oil pack while it is in place on the body. We recommend tying 2 EMF Diffuser Tags (about 2 inches apart) near the plug end of the cord of the heating pad to disperse the toxic electromagnetic field of AC current (60 cycles/second).
- Gallbladder Nano-Detox™ – For use after the castor oil pack

Instructions For Use

1. Prepare 3 layers of cotton flannel. Fold or cut the cloth into three thicknesses, creating a 3-layer pad (on average, about 6' x 8" per sheet) to cover the area to be treated. For example, to use a castor oil pack over the abdominal area, the size of the flannel cloth would be 10 inches long by 8 inches wide (3 sheets thick). The packs can be small, smaller or slightly larger (up to 12" x 10")

2. Cut a plastic sheet. Cut a plastic sheet so it is somewhat larger than the flannel cloth. The plastic is used to protect the heating pad from getting oily. Using a plastic garbage bag normally works fairly well, but it is best to avoid using plastic grocery bags, since they are usually printed with ink on one side which can dissolve and spread when exposed to castor oil.

3. Saturate cloth with castor oil. Place the flannel cloth on top of the plastic sheet. Then saturate it with castor oil (about 3-4 tablespoons). The cloth should be wet but not dripping. The saturated cloth should then be placed directly on the skin with the plastic sheet on top of it. Your plastic sheet should cover the entire exterior of the saturated flannel, since castor oil is likely to stain any fabric it touches.

4. Place heating pad over plastic sheet. Then, place a heating pad over the top of the plastic sheet on either a low or medium setting, or higher if it is comfortable. The heat will promote absorption, increase circulation, and help the body to relax. This is generally left in place for approximately 30 to 60 minutes (up to 1½ hours). You may place a bath towel over the top of the heating pad to help hold in heat and an elastic bandage to hold it in place.

Caution: Heat should not be used in conditions where it is normally contraindicated, such as appendicitis, diabetic neuropathy or over the abdomen during pregnancy. However, the castor oil pack may be used without heat in these conditions.

5. Gallbladder Nano-Detox™ – Take ½ teaspoon in ¼ cup water immediately after using a castor oil pack; this helps to gently cleanse and detoxify the acidic secretions that are released after a castor oil pack.

6. Wash Off Area. After using the castor oil pack, cleanse the skin using a wash cloth and Premier Liquid Soap. Washing the area helps clear acidic toxins which have been drawn out of the body during the treatment and helps prevent reabsorption of these toxins.

Castor Oil Pack Without Heat. An alternative method is to apply the castor oil pack without heat, using a towel wrapped around the body (with safety pins to hold it in place). This can be left on for several hours, overnight or for an entire 24-hour period.

Re-Use of the Same Castor Oil Pack. Each cotton flannel pack may be used only once because, during the course of treatment, the pack gradually absorbs toxins and waste products. Therefore, after use, discard the pack. It is not recommended to try to wash out the pack for re-use.

Frequency of Castor Oil Packs. In general, the castor oil packs are recommended 2 to 4 times per week, for 30 to 60 minutes (up to 1½ hours) per session, for 3 to 6 weeks or longer. At first, it may work better to skip a day in between the use of each pack, rather than using them on consecutive days.

Long-term Chronic Illness. If a person has been chronically ill for a long time, if they have a high degree of toxicity or if they have significant difficulty in eliminating toxins (such as with kidney failure), then it is best if the packs are used on alternating days for the first week or so and for smaller amounts of time (such as 15 to 30 minutes only per session). As the general condition of the body improves, the packs may be used more frequently and/or for longer periods of time (for 1 to 1½ hours per session).

Cleansing Reactions. The use of castor oil packs should always be gentle, without side effects. Cleansing reactions, such as a rash, are rare. If they occur, it usually indicates that the body's ability to eliminate toxins is not sufficient yet. It may be necessary to temporarily decrease the frequency or length of time of using the packs. The most common cleansing reaction is a rash that may occur at the site of the pack. If this occurs, it is typically noticed during the first few applications of the pack. It may be relieved by using the Medi-Soak, a gentle detoxifying bath using highly peizo-electrically charged sea salts for electrolyte replacement and detox. Also, boost adrenal function by taking Quantum Adrenal Complex (3 to 6 Vcaps twice daily).

Full Body Nutritional Support.

To thoroughly support the body's detoxification process, we also recommend taking the Super Food Trio (three key foundation products which deliver ample amounts of all classes of nutrients essential for life) and Heavy Metal Nano-Detox™ (for detoxification of heavy metals/chemicals.)

For Superior Health. Castor oil packs are one of those rare remedies that cannot be used too much. Many people continue to use castor oil packs periodically throughout their lives to help boost the immune system, to keep the lymphatic circulation clear, to assist in proper eliminations and to always feel their best.*

The Ancient Healer

You may be familiar with your grandmother recommending castor oil for constipation. However, the unique, healing benefits of castor oil reach into far more categories. Over the centuries, castor oil received such a sterling reputation because of its rapid healing benefits in so many different types of disorders.

Castor Oil Made Famous

The famous Edgar Cayce, called the "sleeping prophet," popularized the use of castor oil in the 1940's and '50's, especially in the form of castor oil packs, which resulted in amazing health recoveries for many people.

The most frequently recommended use of castor oil by Cayce was as castor oil packs, which were recommended for many conditions such as cholecystitis (inflammation of the gallbladder), poor eliminations, epilepsy, various liver conditions such as cirrhosis and torpid liver, scleroderma, headaches, appendicitis, arthritis, incoordination between assimilations and eliminations, colitis, intestinal disorders such as stricture and colon impaction, incoordination between nervous systems, neuritis, toxemia and more.

The "Hand of Christ"

For thousands of years, castor oil has been used for just about everything: from relieving menstrual cramps to easing childbirth to clearing warts. Castor oil has been used to assist the healing of the body from ancient times throughout the world. It was used therapeutically in ancient India, China, Persia, Egypt, Africa, Greece, Rome, the Americas and in 17th century Europe.

Castor oil was called the Palma Christi or the "Hand of Christ". It is known to be effective for many diverse types of pain, liver and gallbladder stimulation and cleansing/detox, digestive problems, lacerations, skin disorders such as eczema or psoriasis, menopause symptoms, to boost the immune system, as an emollient and skin softener and much more.

Today, many health care practitioners are rediscovering the benefits of using real, therapeutic quality castor oil. Castor oil is truly one of the earth's most versatile healing gifts – and so simple to use.

Clearing the Root Causes

Castor oil appears to work by drawing blood circulation and enhanced biological energy to the area where it is applied, then drawing lodged toxins out of the body. Many practitioners often use castor oil as an important adjunct to a comprehensive treatment plan for an individual. It is important to eradicate the root cause of an illness, not only to clear the symptoms of a disorder. Castor oil has proven very valuable in helping to detoxify the body at deeper levels, thus eliminating the root causes.

The Healing Effect of Ricinoleic Acid

The effectiveness of castor oil may be due in part to its unusual chemical composition. Castor oil is a triglyceride of fatty acids. Almost 90% of its fatty acid content consists of ricinoleic acid. Such a high concentration of this unusual unsaturated fatty acid may be responsible for castor oil's remarkable healing abilities.

Research has shown ricinoleic acid to be effective in preventing the growth of numerous species of viruses, bacteria, yeasts and molds. Due to the many beneficial effects of this fatty acid component, the use of castor oil can be applied topically to treat a wide variety of health complaints.

Using castor oil topically has had a high degree of success in clearing stubborn skin ailments such as ringworm, keratoses and skin inflammation. Generally, for these conditions, the affected area is simply wrapped in cotton cloth soaked with castor oil for one night or for a few nights in a row until the area heals.

In Russia, castor oil is added to health products to restore hair growth and luster, to help resolve constipation and to soothe eye irritations.

Increasing Lymphocytes

Much of the popularity of castor oil (especially the use of an external castor oil pack) can be attributed to the late healing psychic, Edgar Cayce, who liberally recommended the use of castor oil for many people who came to him requesting help for many types of health conditions. Cayce was especially fond of recommending castor oil as an abdominal pack (i.e. several layers of cotton saturated with castor oil, then placed against the skin) to which heat was then applied for a short period of time (1/2 to one hour). The results were so astounding that castor oil packs are still very popular today.

Cayce recommended the use of castor oils packs in hundreds of readings to improve the body's eliminations, lymphatic circulation and assimilation of nutrients. By using castor oil packs, the flow of lymph is increased throughout the body. This helps to speed the removal of toxins surrounding the cells and to reduce the size of swollen lymph nodes. The end result is a pronounced, systemic improvement in organ function with a general lessening of fatigue and depression.

Dr. William McGarey, a medical doctor in Phoenix, Arizona who extensively studied Cayce's medical recommendations, showed that his own patients using castor oil packs had significant increases in the production of lymphocytes as compared to those using placebo packs. In his book, The Oil That Heals, Dr. McGarey recounts many seemingly miraculous cases where castor oil packs were the key therapy used to help his patients overcome many different types of disorders in a very short period of time.

Unfortunately, much castor oil currently available is derived from castor oil beans that have been pesticided or poorly grown (thus having few or no healing properties) and which have been solvent-extracted or deodorized (which damages healing phytonutrients and imparts residual toxic solvent contaminants).

Castor Paste

Cayce also recommended applying "castor paste" on callouses on the feet, moles, ingrown toenails, warts and other problem areas. Castor "paste" is made by mixing a pinch (about 1/8 tsp.) of baking soda with 3 to 4 drops of castor oil in the palm, then massage into the affected area. You can also wrap a towel over it for several hours.
